

Contact: St. John's College, Dept. of Nursing
729 E. Carpenter St. Springfield, IL 62702

Office: 212
Phone: (217) 525-5628 or (217) 544-6464 Ext. 45439
Email: jill.chamberlain@st-johns.org

Education: BSN 1998 St. John's College, Dept. of Nursing
MS 2003 Southern Illinois University Edwardsville

Rank: Assistant Professor

Courses Taught: Nsg 301: Introduction to Caring in Professional Nursing
Nsg 305: Health Assessment Across the Adult Lifespan
Nsg 411: Caring for Clients with Complex Health Demands
Nsg 431: Leadership/Management: Perspectives of Caring

Membership: National League for Nursing
Sigma Theta Tau Nu Pi

Jill Chamberlain received her BSN degree from St. John's College, Dept. of Nursing and her MS from Southern Illinois University of Edwardsville. She is currently an Assistant Professor of nursing at St. John's College, Dept. of Nursing, where she has been a faculty member since 2004. She has clinical experience in acute care, emergency care and management. She received her Certified Nurse Educator (CNE) certification in 2008. She is an active member with Sigma Theta Tau Nu Pi chapter. Her nursing interests include geriatrics and her educational interests include curriculum development. She devotes her service to making young people aware of all the exciting possibilities of the nursing profession.