

Dr. Judy Shackelford is an associate professor at St. John's College, Department of Nursing. She has been an educator for 21 years. She obtained her BSN from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1983, her MS in Adult Health Nursing from University of Illinois at Champaign in 1988 and her PhD in Nursing from the University of Missouri at St. Louis in 2007.

Dr. Shackelford is a medical/surgical "generalist" with a research focus in adult asthma self-management education to improve health care outcomes. She is passionate about nursing and research with a career goal to expand nursing research utilization to improve health care practice and outcomes for the health care consumer. She is Program Planner for Continuing Education and a representative for St. John's Hospital, Center for Learning and Innovation.

Dr. Shackelford considers it an honor to work for an institution where Christian values are foundational to its mission, and a blessing to serve in a profession where God's healing presence can reside freely. Dr. Shackelford can be reached at judy.shackelford@st-johns.org or (217)544-6464 ext. 45444.