Marilyn Robins received her Registered Nurse Diploma in 1975 from Memorial Medical Center, followed by completion of her Bachelor of Science in Nursing at the University of Illinois, Springfield. Her Masters of Science in Nursing and Acute Care Nurse Practitioner education were completed at the University of Illinois, Chicago. She is currently Board Certified as an Acute Care Nurse Practitioner. Also, she is completing a Doctoral in Nursing Practice at the University of Illinois, Chicago. As a new adjunct faculty at St. John's College, she is teaching medical surgical clinical part time. For over 30 years, Marilyn has worked in Intensive Care Units, Emergency Departments and Transport Teams in Springfield, Illinois, Chicago, Illinois, and San Diego, California. Also, she has been, and is currently employed as a Board Certified Acute Care Nurse Practitioner in Emergency and Prompt Care settings at St. John's Hospital and Springfield Clinic. She has been a Board Certified Emergency Nurse, as well as a Trauma Nurse Specialist. She maintains certification in ACLS and PALS. Her memberships include the American College of Nurse Practitioners, Emergency Nurses Association, American Academy of Nurse Practitioners, and Sigma Theta Tau International. New in the faculty role, but not new to the profession, Marilyn looks forward to this new endeavor.
